STEREOSCOPIC.

While Photography portrays the sublime and beautiful in mature and art, the STEREOSCOPE reproduces, in all their roundness and prominence, the objects and the scenes themselves. The rearing cataract, the peaceful landscape, the fields of battle, the haunts and the homes of genius are seen as in the living eye. The hallowed temple, the collossal bronze, the breathing marble, rise before us in startling reality; and the cherished forms of youth and beauty, the loved and the lost, return to our embrace, the household gods of a happier home."—Sir David Brewster.

LIFE OF LOUIS NAPOLEON

THE BONAPARTE FAMILY.

Comprising a History of the Career of Napoleon I., the Restoration of the Bourbons, the Reign of Louis Phillippe, and the Life and Career of Napoleon III.

By Herry W. Dr. Puy.

One vol., 457 pp., 12mo., with fine steel Portraits of Louis Napoleon and the Empress Engenie. Price $1.25.

An interesting and reliable history of the Bonaparte family, from the down of its celebrity to the present time, with such a sketch of French history as is necessary to the proper connection and clear understanding of the work.

Opinions of the Press.

"It is a work long needed, and for which every intelligent person feels a necessity theme we heartily welcome the volume before us. Its method is excellent, its breadth and grasp very remarkable, and the style incid and brillient.— Pannton Democrat. "An interesting and instructive volume. The author has given a graphic description of the career of the great Napoleon, and the scarcerly less brilliant career of Leuis Napoleon is set forth with animirable succinctness and truthfulness."—Dom. Expounder.

"The style of the author is popular and attractive, and his book blends the interest of history with that of biography. The engravings are superior, and type, paper, and binding excellent."—[Boston Telegraph.

lowest possible races. Salerdom No. 7 Deyest., cot. Broadway.

CAUTION to DEALERS in SKIRTS.—The popularity of the WREN EXTENSION SKIRT has induced other manufacturers to put in the market an imitation of the genuine, in which the aprings are pasted in a tape made with keeps or openings. The mode produced by this method are very much inferior, as the openings are necessarily large, and most soon side from their places and spoul the shape of the skirt. Dealers will consult the interest of their customers by buying none but the genuine and original, and see that each Saint bears my name and trade mark—THE WOVEN SKIRT.
